Antibacterial Protection

KLEON protection inhibits bacterial growth on the product surface throughout the lifetime of the product. Normally, on an unprotected plastic surface, the number of the bacteria can double in every 20 minutes. The antibacterial protection also extends to the handle ensuring hygienic place to store knives.

Cleaning the Noodle

1. Turn the entire block upside down to separate the plastic noodle from the frame.
2. When using the dishwasher, wash the plastic noodle (top rack) under a normal wash cycle.
(Heat drying is not recommended).
3. Shake the plastic noodle to drain residual water after washing.
4. Air dry the plastic noodle with the base pointing upward.
5. Put the plastic noodle back into the frame after it is completely dry.
